DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hahnewald, et al. (US 4,986,173) in view of Schwartz, Jr. et al. (US 3,483,814). The patent to Hahnewald, et al. teaches a case that "rests on" or is slightly "supported" by a base (8) when the base is connected to the case. Also, the base and case are constructed to allow the base to be connected to the case by an inherent pivoting movement (by hand) of the case relative to the base. Thus, the patent to Hahnewald, et al. discloses the claimed subject matter except for the base and case having a plurality of feet. The patent to Schwartz, Jr. et al. discloses that it is known in the art to use a plurality of feet (16a, 18a) as a means for support. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have provided the base and case of Hahnewald, et al. with a plurality of feet in the manner suggested by Schwartz, et al. in order to permit the base and case to rest on a work surface, if desirable.
